

Chuck W. Masur

Networking, Office 365 and Audio/Video Specialist
Electronic Devices, Inc.

Chuck joined Electronic Devices, Inc. (EDI) in 2014. He specializes in networking, Microsoft Office 365 and Audio / Video systems. He leads the marketing & business development effort and like everyone at EDI, he helps build and repair computers.

Prior to working for EDI, Chuck spent 30 years working IBM corporation in a variety of sales and marketing jobs including Vice President of Global Cloud Alliances, VP Dassault Systemes Global Alliance, VP of Sales for the IBM/Oracle Global alliance and Alliance executive for JD Edwards and PeopleSoft. He also managed CAD/CAM sales at local, regional and national levels during his IBM career.

Chuck Graduated from the University of Kansas, School of Architecture & Urban Design with a Bachelors of Environmental Design in 1979 and also with a Master of Science in Architectural Engineering in 1981. His first jobs out of college were as an HVAC designer and engineer for Howard Needles Tammen & Bergandoff (Kansas City) and HBE corporation in St. Louis.

He is married with 2 children and resides in Denver, Colorado.